CONDITIONS OF SALE.

- I. The highest bidder to be the buyer, and if any dispute arise between bidders, the lot so disputed shall be immediately put up again, provided the seller cannot decide the said dispute.
- II. No person to advance less than 6*d.*; above ten shillings, 1*s.*; above five pounds, 2*s.* 6*d.*; and so on.
- III. The purchasers to give in their names and places of abode, and to pay down 10*s.* in the pound, if required, in part payment of the purchase-money; in default of which the lot or lots purchased to be immediately put up again and re-sold.
- IV. The lots to be taken away at the buyer's expense, immediately after the conclusion of the sale; in default of which Messrs. SOTHEY, WILKINSON & HODGE will not hold themselves responsible if lost, stolen, damaged, or otherwise destroyed, but they will be left at the sole risk of the purchaser. If, at the expiration of ONE WEEK after the conclusion of the sale, the books or other property are not cleared or paid for, they will then be catalogued for immediate sale, and the expense, the same as if re-sold, will be added to the amount at which the books were bought. Messrs. SOTHEY, WILKINSON & HODGE will have the option of re-selling the Lots uncleared, either by public or private sale, without any notice being given to the defaulter.
- V. The books are presumed to be perfect, unless otherwise expressed; but if, upon collating, any should prove defective, the purchaser will be at liberty to take or reject them, provided they are returned within ONE WEEK after the conclusion of the sale, when the purchase-money will be returned.
- VI. The sale of any book or books is not to be set aside on account of any stained or short leaves of text or plates, want of list of plates, or on account of the publication of any subsequent volume, supplement, appendix, or plates. All the manuscripts, autographs, all magazines, and reviews, all books in lots, and all tracts in lots or volumes, will be sold with all faults, imperfections, and errors of description. The sale of any lot of prints or drawings is not to be set aside on account of any error in the enumeration of the numbers stated, or errors of description.
- VII. No IMPERFECT BOOKS will be taken back, unless a note accompanies each book, stating its imperfections, with the number of lot and date of the sale at which the same was purchased.
- VIII. To prevent inaccuracy in delivery, and inconvenience in the settlement of the purchases, no lot can on any account be removed during the time of sale.
- IX. Upon failure of complying with the above Conditions, the money required and deposited in part of payment shall be forfeited; and if any loss is sustained in the re-selling of such lots as are not cleared or paid for, all charges on such re-sale shall be made good by the defaulters at this Sale.

PREFACE.

THIS memorable Library abounds in treasures, specialities, and curiosities of Literature. It contains many unique books, and some equally so as regards the chance of sale, the only others known being locked up in Public Libraries that can never be dispersed. The copies, generally speaking, are of unrivalled beauty in point of internal and external condition, thus exemplifying the profound taste and judgment of Mr. DANIEL, who never neglected an opportunity of acquiring the finest examples that presented themselves during a long and an anxious career. The successful result of his labours will be admitted on a careful perusal of the following Catalogue, so rich in bibliographical rarities of the highest class, and which are sought for by the Amateur with peculiar curiosity.

The limits of a Preface would not admit of an enumeration of the Literary treasures contained in the Collection, but the following may be cited, among others of great interest and rarity, illustrating the unceasing perseverance of the late possessor.

The works of Shakespeare form a very important section, and comprise the First Four Folios, all of the first class, and much finer copies than can ever again occur for sale. The Quarto Plays, too, present a remarkable feature, the following being of the first edition and of the highest degree of rarity:—

The Tragedie of King Richard the Second; the Tragedy of King Richard the Third; Love's Labors Lost; Tragedie of Romeo and Juliet; Chronicle History of Henry the Fifth; History of the Merchant of Venice; Much Adoe about Nothing;

Midsommer Nights Dreame; Syr Iohn Falstaffe and the Merrie Wives of Windsor; Pericles, Prince of Tyre; Troylus and Cresseid; Tragædy of Othello. To these may be added the first edition of Lucrece, 1594; the Venus and Adonis of 1594, and another most precious edition of 1596; a most beautiful and perfect copy of the Sonnets, of an impression of which only two perfect copies are known; a most choice copy of the first edition of the Poems. Among the Plays attributed to Shakespeare, may be mentioned the Lamentable Tragedie of Locrine; the first editions of Sir Iohn Oldcastle and the London Prodigall.

Among the Shakespeariana will be found some interesting Articles; including one illustrative of the Shakespeare Jubilee, a quarto volume of great interest, being enriched with original Drawings, Portraits and other important illustrations.

Next in point of importance may be mentioned the precious volume of Seventy Black-Letter Ballads (printed within the years 1559 and 1597), illustrating, in an agreeable form, the manners and customs of an interesting by-gone time—all the editions of which are unique, and all in the finest possible state of preservation.

From among the Books considered to be unique, or nearly so, after much research, the following may be cited:—History of Bevis of Hampton; Chute's Beawtie Dishonoured; the Convercyon of Swerers; Dobson's Drie Bobbes; Ecclesiastes or the Preacher; Green Goose Fair; Hannay's Nightingale, with the Rare Leaf of Music; Boke of Hawkyng and Huntynge and Fysshynge; A Treatyse how the Hye Fader of Heven sendeth Deth to somon every Creature; The Boke of Mayd Emlyn that had V Husbandes; An Interlocution betwixt Man and Woman; A Mery Ieste of a Shrewde and Curste Wyfe; XII Mery Iests of the Wyddow Edyth; Gratia Ludentes; Bulls with Tales and the Booke of Bulls; Mad Prankes and Merry Iests of Robin Goodfellow; Iocabella or a Cabinet of Conceits; Brewer's Merry Iests; Maroccus Extaticus; Munday's Banquet of Daintie Conceits; Story of King Daryus; Meeting of Gallants; Old Meg of Herefordshire; an extraordinarily curious Collection of Penny Merriments, and Popular Histories; Roy's Rede me and be nott Rothe; Kynge Rycharde, Cuer du Lyon; Unique Scottish Chap Books; Smith's Chloris; Sonnets to the Fairest Cœlia; History of Tom Thumbe; Watson's Passionate Century of Love; Westward for Smelts; and many other of the rarest works within the range of English Literature.

The class of lore under the heads of Garlands, Jests, Drolleries and Songs, comprises some extraordinary features, and forms a singular portion of the collection, containing many rarities of quite a unique character.

There is also another class of productions to which attention must be drawn, viz., those volumes copiously enriched with original Autograph Letters, Drawings and Engravings, illustrative of the lives and times of Burns, Chatterton, Cowper, Goldsmith, Gray, Johnson, Kemble, Pope, and other men of note.

There are also two Missals of the highest class of art, of the finest quality and in the purest condition, and the Library contains the choicest copies of works in general literature, which occupy a large feature, many of them being illustrated with curious peculiarities, conferring a unique distinction, and greatly tending to enhance their value and importance.

The Collection of Original Drawings and Engraved Portraits of eminent Actors and Actresses, beautiful water-colour Drawings and miscellaneous objects of Art and Vertu, will close this most interesting sale, which is confessedly without a rival in most of its important branches, possessing as they do innumerable articles of the most distinguished rarity, worthy the attention of the Collector, the Man of Taste, and the Amateur.

PRINTED BETWEEN THE YEARS 1559 AND 1597.

The following is an enumeration of the Contents of this most marvellous and unrivalled Collection of Ballads, which are in the most perfect Condition and of the highest Interest, ALL OF THEM BEING PRESUMED TO BE UNIQUE AND HITHERTO UNKNOWN—

A Newe Ballade.

Finis. Quod. R.M. 1559.

The "metre-ballad-monger" warns Elizabeth against the "forked-cap" (the Pope); bringing before her the example of her "Proginitours." The burden of the song is very ancient, viz., "Lady, Lady, moste dere Lady."

(A copy of this "newe ballade," is preserved among the broadsides in the library of the Society of Antiquaries. Query—Was "R. M." Richard Mulcaster?)

The Wonders of England.

1559. Finis. Q. I. A.

Imprinted at London by John Awdeley.

Alluding to the death of Edward VI.: the accession of Mary to the throne; the restoration of the Roman Catholic religion in England; and its fall, on the accession of Queen Elizabeth.

(One of the numerous productions, in "ballad-lore," of the rhyming printer John Awdeley.)*

* Nos. III., V., VI., VII., VIII., XIV., XV., and XVII., being merely descriptive of monstrosities or subjects not interesting to the general reader, we have thought it proper to omit them.

IV.

A New Ballad against Anthriffs.

Finis, Quoth W. F.

Imprinted at London at the long Shop adjoining unto Saint Mildreds Church in the Poultry, by John Alde.

(Entered in the Stationers' Books in 1561-2. "W. F." was, in all probability, William Fulwood, the author of the "Supplication to Elderton," and many other broadsides.)

IX.

A most pleasant Ballad of patient Crissell.

To the tune of the Brides good morrow.

[Woodcut border—top, bottom, and end.]

(The original ballad of "The Bride's Good-morrow," which furnished the tune for the present ballad, is reprinted in Mr. J. P. Collier's volume of "Roxburghe Ballads." Owen Rogers had a license in 1565-6, to print "the sounge of Pacyente Gressell," which may probably be the one in our list; but the subject was a common one.)

X.

The Fantasies of a troubled mannes head.

Finis. T. C.

(Alexander Lacy had a license to print this ballad in 1565-6. Its author was probably Thomas Churchyard.)

XI.

A Strife between Appelles and Pigmalian.

(William Griffith had a license to print "A ballad of Appelles and Pygmalynes, to the tune of the fyrst Apelles," in 1565-6. This was undoubtedly the one in our Catalogue. A song "to the tune of Apelles," is in Barnaby Googe's "Poems," printed in 1563. It was therefore an established favourite.)

XII.

Almighty God I pray, his holy spirite to send :The iust mannes hart stedfast to stay, and wicked libes to mend.Imprinted at London, without Aldersgate, in little Britain; by Alex. Lacy, the 16. of August, 1566.

XIII.

The true discription of a Childe with Ruffes borne in the parish of Michesham in the Countie of Surrey in the yeere of our Lord 1566.

The for part and the back part.

Finis. q. H B.

Imprinted at London by John Alde and Richarde Johnes and are to be solde at the Long Shop adjoining unto S. Mildreds Church in the Pultrie and at the little shop adjoining to the North-west doore of Pauls Church. Anno domini 1566 the 20. of August.

[Woodcut of a child (the fore part and the back part) inclosed in a plain border at the top Prose and Verse. The whole of the above is repeated on the other side.]

A popular ballad of the seventeenth century. "Pride's Fall, or a Warning to all English-Women," gives us a similar instance of monstrosity:—

About his neck a flaunting ruff,
It now had gallantly,
Starched with white and blew,
Seemly unto the eye:

With laces long and broad,
As now are womens bands,
Thus heavy, wanton pride
First in God's anger stands.

In 1587, Henry Carre had a license to print "a newe balled, intituled "Stowp gallant," concerning a child borne with great Ruffes.")

XVI.

A Proper New balad of the Bryber Gehesie.

Taken out of the fourth booke of Kinges the V. Chapter.
To the tune of Kyng Salomon. Finis Q. George Mell.

Imprinted at London in Fletestreate beneath the Conduit, at the Signe of S. John Evangelist, by Thomas Colwell.

[Woodcut border in the centre.]

(This ballad was licensed by the Stationers' Company in 1566-7. The story of Gehazi is in what we now call the Second Book of Kings. "A Ballett of Kyng Salomon," probably the original of the tune here referred to, was licensed in 1559-60.)

---

XVIII.

The Daunce and Song of Death.

[A Woodcut with twenty figures, and five verses in black-letter.]

XIX.

A Newe Ballade of a Lober Extollinge his Ladye.

To the tune of Damon and Pithias.

Finis. Q. M. Qsb.

Imprinted at London, in Fletstrete at the signe of the Faucon by Wylliam Gryffith. 1568.

A very passionate and beautiful ballad; the burden of which is, "Or els for love I die."

[Music at the top—plain border all round—border, with figures in the centre.]

(This ballad was licensed to Thomas Colwell in 1562-3. The tune is unknown.)

---

XX.

A New Ballade intituled

Good Fellowes must go learne to Daunce.

Imprinted at London; in Flete Streete at the Signe of the Faucon, by Wylliam Gryffith, and are to be solde at his shoppe in S. Dunstones Churchyarde. 1569.

[With a woodcut of good fellows drinking and dancing; rich border in the centre, &c.]

(Entered on the Stationers' Books in 1567-8.)

---

XXI.

A proper new balad in praise of my Ladie Marques, whose death is bewailed.

To the tune of new lusty gallant. Finis Q. W. Elderton.

(Entered on the Stationers' Books in 1568-9. The tune is contained in William Ballet's Lute Book, MS. in Trinity College, Dublin.)

(This lady was probably Elizabeth, daughter of Sir William Capel, Kt., Lord Mayor of London, and wife of William Paulet, first Marquis of Winchester.)

XXII.

Of the horrible and woful Destruction of Sodome and Gomorra.

To the tune of the nine Muses.

Imprinted at London by Richard Johnes for Henrie Kyrikham, dwellyng at the signe of the blacke Boy : at the middle North dore of Paules Church.

[Plain border all round, woodcut border in the centre.]

(Alexander Lacy had a license to print a ballad upon the same subject in 1568-9. The tune of "The Nine Muses" is mentioned in Robinson's "Handefull of Pleasant Delites," 1584, but it is not known at the present day.)

XXIII.

The true discription of this marvellous straunge Fishe, which was taken on thursday was sennight, the 16. day of June, this present month, in the yeare of our Lord God 1569.

Fininis. Qd. C. R.

The identical broadside "Of a fish," mentioned by Autolicus as forming an item in his multifarious pack. See "Winter's Tale," act iv. scene 3.

[Woodcut of a fish, inclosed in a plain border at the top. Prose description inclosed in a woodcut border.]

("On the 11 of October (1568) were taken in Suffolke, at Downam bridge, neere unto Ipswich, eightene monstrous fishes, some of them containing eight and twentie foote in length, the other 24 or 21 foote in length at the least."—Stow's Annales, 1122. A prose description of these "strange fishes" was printed by Colwell in the same year. A copy is preserved in the Miller Collection. "C. R." was probably Clement Robinson, the author of "Pleasant Sonnets and Stories in Metre," &c.)

XXIV.

The Plagues of Northumberland.

To the tune of Appelles.

Finis. Q. John Barker.

Imprinted at London in Fleetestreate beneath the Conduyt, at the signe of Saint John Evangelist, by Thomas Colwell.

(Colwell had a license to print this ballad in 1569-70. It, of course, has reference to the Rebellion in the North, like Churchyard's "Discourse of Rebellion," and many other productions of this date. "Apelles" was a popular tune as early as 1563, but it is not known at the present time.)

XXV.

A ballad intituled, Prepare ye to the Plowe.

To the Tune of Pepper is blacke.

The Queene holdes the Plow, to continew good seede,
Trustie subjectes be readie to helpe if she neede.

W. Elderton.

Imprinted at London, in Fleete streete, by William How, for Richard Johnes: and are to be solde at his shop, joyning to the Southwest doore of Paules Church.

[Plain border all round, and in the centre. Woodcut device at the end.]

(The registers of the Stationers' Company record this ballad under the date of 1569-70. It is not mentioned among Elderton's numerous productions. The tune of "Pepper's black" is preserved in the "English Dancing Master," 1651.)

XXVI.

Joyfull Newes for true Subjectes to God and the Crowne,
The Rebelles are cooled, their Braggess be put downe.

Come humble ye downe, come humble ye downe,

Perforce now submyt ye : to the Queen and the Crown.

Finis. W. Kyrkh.

Imprinted at London in Fleetstreete, by Wylliam How: for Richard Johnes.

[Plain border all round. Woodcut border in the centre.]

(Entered in the Stationers' Books in 1569-70.)

XXVII.

A very proper dittie.

To the tune of Lightlie love.

Leave Lightie love Ladies, for feare of yll name:

And True love embrace ye, to purchace your fame.

Finis. By Leonarde Gybson.

Imprinted at London, in the upper end of Fleet lane, by Richard Johnes: and are to be solde at his shop joyning to the Southe west Dore of Saint Pauls Church, 1570.

[Plain border all round. Woodcut device at beginning and end.]

(This interesting ballad has been reprinted (from Mr. Daniel's copy) in Chappell's "Popular Music of the Olden Time." Leonard Gibson was the author of a ballad entitled "L. Gibson's Tantara wherein Danea welcommeth home her lord Diaphon from the war," in Robinson's "Handefull of Pleasant Delites," 1584; and of several other pieces mentioned by Ritson. The tune of "Light o' Love" is twice mentioned by Shakspeare ("Two Gentlemen of Verona," act i. sc. 2, and "Much Ado About Nothing," act iii. sc. 4). The musical notes are preserved in William Ballet's Lute Book, MS. in Trinity College, Dublin; and in "Musick's Delight on the Cithren," 1666.)

XXVIII.

An Epitaph on the death of the vertuous Matrone, the Ladie Maiorresse, late wyfe to the right Honorable Lorde Alexander Auenet, Lord Maior of the Citie of London, who deceased the VII date of July 1570.

Post Funera vivit virtus. Quoth John Phillip.

Imprinted at London by Richarde Johnes.

[Woodcut border all round. Initial letter with device.]

(John Phillip is mentioned by Ritson as the author of the "Cleomenes and Juliet," 1577; but he knew nothing of the present ditty. Heber had a ballad by the same writer, entitled "A Cold Pye for the Papistes." His name occurs more than once in our Catalogue.)

XXIX.

A newe Ballade intituled, agaynst Rebelloious and false Rumours.

To the newe tune of the Blacke Almaine, upon Scissillia.

Finis. Q. Thomas Bette.

Imprinted at London, in the Fletestreat at the signe of the Faucon by Wylliam Gryffith, and are to be sold at his Shoppe in Sainet Dunstones Churchyard. 1570.

Alluding to France "spoyled in Ruth and feare," whence "Flemminges fled from Tirantes hands," and to false forebodings of "much trouble in the land." (England).

[Woodcut device at beginning and end—Woodcut border with figures in the centre.]

(The author of this ballad is not named by any bibliographer. This is the earliest notice of a tune that will be mentioned again in our Catalogue.)

XXX.

A Ballad rejoycinge the sodaine fall,
Of Rebels that thought to debowre us all.

Imprinted at London, in Fleete streete, by William How, for Henry Kirkham, and are to be solde at his shop at the middle North doore of Paules Church.

In reference to the rebellion of the Earls of Westmorland and Northumberland, and their papistical doings:—

The Bibles they did rend and teare, like Traytours to the Crowne.

[Plain border under the title, and in the centre.]

(Entered on the Stationers' Books in 1570. Kirkham's earliest publication, recorded by Herbert, is dated 1573.)

XXXI.

The braineles blessing of the Bull
The hornes, the heads and all,
Light on their squint eyed skonkses full,
That boweth their knees to Ball.

Imprinted at S. Katherins beside the Tower of London, over against the Beare daunce, by Alexander Lacie.

An epistle to the Pope, abusing him and his Bulls, and the Roman Catholics in general.

[Plain border all round. Devices at beginning and end.]

(Entered in the Stationers' Books in 1570-1. The Bull here alluded to was that which Felton placed on the gate of the palace of the Bishop of London, May 25, 1570, and for which he was afterwards executed.)

XXXII.

The pope in his fury doth answer returne,
To a letter ye which to Rome is late come.

Finis. S. P.

Imprinted by Alexander Lacie for Henry Kyrkham, dwelling at the Signe of the black Boye, at the middle North dore of Paules Church.

A supposititious and satirical answer from the Pope to "The brainless Blessing," letting out the secret that of the said "Blessing" the famous sweet singer of Grub-street, Wylliam Elderton, was the author. Of this once notorious ballad-monger the following is a description by a contemporary, 1582. See "Reporte of the Death and Martyrdome of M. Campion, Jesuit, &c." :—

Fond Ellerton, call in thy foolish rhyme,
Thy scurill balates are to bad to sell;
Let good men rest, and mende thy self in time
Confess in prose, thou hast not metred well;
Or if thy folly cannot choose but fayne
Write alehouse toys, blaspheme not in thy vain.

[Plain border all round.]

(Stephen Peele (supposed to be the father of George Peele, the dramatist) was the author of the present ballad. Another effusion of his on the same subject, entitled

"A letter to Rome to declare to the Pope
John Felton his friend is hang'd in a rope;
And farther, a right his grace to enforme,
He dyed a papist and seem'd not to turne," was in the Heber Collection. It has been reprinted in Mr. Payne Collier's "Old Ballads from Early Printed Copies." Percy Society, 1840, p. 65.

XXXIII.

The, 25, Orders of Fooles.

Finis. q. T. G.

Imprinted at London by Alexander Lacie, for Henrie Kyrkham, dwellyng at the Signe of the blacke Boye: at the middle North dore of Paules Church.

[Plain border all round; devices in the centre.]

("The XXV Orders of Knaves," forms a division of Awdely's "Fraternitie of Vacabondes," printed in 1560. In 1570, Henry Kirkham had a license to print "A Ballad intituled the XX Orders of Fooles," which is undoubtedly the one in question. T. G. was probably Thomas Gibson, a well-known writer of such productions.)

XXXIV.

A pleasant posie, or Sweet Nosegay of fragrant smellyng Flowers: gathered in the Garden of heavenly pleasure, the holy and blessed Bible.

To the tune of the Black Almayne. Finis. John Symon.

Imprinted at London by Richard Johnes: dwellyng in the upper end of Fleet lane. 1572.

[Plain border all round.]

(The name of John Symon is nowhere mentioned as a ballad writer. The "Black Almayne" was a popular tune, but it has not been preserved.)

XXXV.

A Ballad Intituled, a Newe well aday,
As playne maister Papist, as Donstable wage.

Finis W. E.

Alluding to the rebellion in the north (1584). The burden of this ballad is:—

Well a daye, well a daye, well a daye woe is mee
Syr Thomas Plomtrie is hanged on a tree.

[Woodcut border in the centre, and all round. Tailpiece.]

(A license was granted by the Stationers' Company for the printing of "the seconde Well-a-daye," in 1566-7, so the title must have been common. Shakspeare mentions the tune of Welladay. W. E. was, of course, that prolific ballad-monger William Elderton.

XXXVI.

Ane new ballet set out be ane Fugitive Scottisman that fled out of Paris at this lait Murther.

Finis Quod Simpell.

Imprentit at Sanctandris be Robert Lekpriuik, Anno. Do. 1572.

This ballad is written on the massacre of St. Bartholomew, and names Catharine de Medicis as the guilty cause of it. The "ane Fugitive" thus counsels Elizabeth:—

Now wyse Quene Elizabeth Inik to your self Dispite them, and wryte them, ane bill of defyance.

XXXVII.

Ane Complaint upon Fortoun.

Finis, quod Sempill.

(Robert Semple, the writer of this and the preceding ditty, was the author of a number of very interesting ballads on Scottish history. Many are preserved in the library of the Society of Antiquaries.)

XXXVIII.

An Epitaph on the death of the Right honorable and vertuous Lord Henry Arisley, the noble Earle of Southampton. Who lieth interred at Touchfeelde in the Countie of Hamshyre, the 30 day of November, 1581, and in the 24. yeare of our most drad and Soberaigne Ladie Elizabeth by the grace of God, of England, Fraunce, and Ireland Queene, &c.

Omnis caro fenum. Q. John Phillip.

[Woodcut border all round. Woodcut device at the end.]

(This was Henry Wriothesley, second Earl of Southampton, whose sumptuous monument is still preserved at Titchfield, in Hampshire.)

XXXIX.

A Dittie

In the worthie praise of an high and mightie Prince.

(The Duke of Norfolk.)

Finis. Ber. Gar.

Imprinted at London without Aldersgate in Little Britaine, by Alex. Lacy.

(On Thomas Duke of Norfolk, beheaded for high treason, June 2, 1572. Elderton wrote a ballad entitled "The Dekaye of the Duke," printed, without date, by Thomas Colwell. A copy is preserved in the library of the Society of Antiquaries. "Ber. Gar." was Bernard Garter, author of "A New Yere's Gift," the ballad of "Helen's Epistle to Paris," &c.)

XL.

A famous dittie of the Joyful receaving of the Queen's moste excellent majestie, by the worthie Citizens of London the 12th day of November, 1584, at her graces coming to Saint James.

To the tune of Wigmore's Galliard.

Finis. Richard Harrington.

At London, Printed by Edwarde Alde for Yarith James, and are to be solde in Newgate Market against Christ Church gate. 1584.

[Very rich woodcut border all round, and through the middle.]

("The 12 of November (1584) the Queenes Majestie (returning after hir progresse) came to hir manor of S. James, where the citizens of London, to the number of 200, the gravest sort in coates of velvet, and chaines of gold, on horseback, and 1000 of the companies on foote (having with them 1000 men with torches, ready there to give light on every side, for that the night drew on), received and welcomed hir."—Stow's Annales, 1191.)

XLI.

A godly ditty or Prayer to be song unto God for the preserbation of his Church, our Quene and Realme, against all Traytours, Rebels, and Papistical Enemies.

Syng this after the tune of the cxxxvij. Psalme, which begins When as we sat in Babilon. Or such lyke.

Finis. Quoth Joh. Awdely.

Imprinted at London by John Awdely.

Alluding to the English Rebellion in 1584, when the Earls of Northumberland and Arundel fell under suspicion, and Francis Throgmorton was found guilty and executed. Lord Paget and Charles Arundel fled beyond sea.

[Woodcut of the Royal Arms in the centre of the title. Plain border all round.]

(John Awdely, the author of the present ballad, was also the printer. He was likewise the writer and printer of a very interesting ballad called "The Cruel Assault of God's Fort," which has been reprinted in Mr. J. P. Collier's "Old Ballads from Early Printed Copies." Percy Society, 1840, p. 29.)

XLII.

A brief sonet declaring the lamentation of Beccles, a Market Towne in Suffolke which was in the great winde upon S. Andrewes ebe pittifully burned with fire to the value by estimation of twentie thousand pounds. And to the number of fourescore dwelling houses, besides a great number of other houses.

1586. To the tune of Labandalashotte. Finis. q. D. Sterrie.

At London,

Imprinted by Robert Robinson for Nicholas Colman of Norwich, dwelling in St. Andrewes Churchyarde.

[Woodcut at top; woodcut border top and bottom.]

(The tune of "Labandalashotte" is mentioned in the "Handfull of Pleasant Delights," 1584, but it has not been recovered.)

XLIII.

A proper new Sonet declaring the lamentation of Beccles a Market Towne in Suffolke, which was in the great winde upon S. Andrewes ebe last past, most pittifully burned with fire, to the losse by estimation of twentie thousande pounde and upwarde, to the number of foure-score dwelling houses, 1586.

To Wilson's tune. Finis. T. D.

At London, Imprinted by Robert Robinson for Nicholas Colme of Norwich, dwelling in S. Andrewes Churchyard.

This, and the preceding Ballad ("a brieft sonet," &c.), relate to the same calamity that befel the town of Beccles. The author complains bitterly that "No helpe was found to slacke the fyre"—that the thieves stole "Theyr neighbors wealth which wasted lay about the streetes that time;"—that "from the morning nyne a clocke till foure a clocke at night," Beccles lost "fourescore houses, the Church, and temple;" and that

The market place and houses fayre
that stood about the same
Hath felt the force and violence of this most fearful flame.

(A mutilated copy of this rare ballad was discovered some few years ago in the binding of an old Italian work, printed in 1584, in the library of the Royal Society. T. D. was Thomas Deloney, the "balletting silkweaver" of Norwich, and probably the above was one of his earliest productions. "Wilson's tune," or "Wilson's Wilde," as it is sometimes called, is preserved in William Ballet's Lute Book, a MS. in Trinity College, Dublin. A later impression of this "Sonet" may be found among the Bagford Ballads in the British Museum.)

XLIV.

A mournfull Dittie on the death of certaine Judges and Justices of the Peace, and divers other Gentlemen, who died immediately after Assizes, holden at Lincolne last past.

To the tune of Fortune.

Imprinted at London by John Wolfe, for William Wright. 1590.

[Woodcut at the beginning. Broad woodcut border all round and in the centre, with devices.] (The tune of "Fortune" (one of the most popular of our old ballad airs) is preserved in Queen Elizabeth's Virginal Book; in William Ballet's MS. Lute Book; in Vallet's "Tablature de Luth," 1615; in "Nederlandtsche Gedenckelank," 1626, &c. &c. "Fortune my foe" (the first line of the old ballad) is alluded to by Shakespeare in "The Merry Wives of Windsor," act iii. sc. 3; and the ballad of "Titus Andronicus," upon which Shakespeare founded his play of the same name, was sung to the same tune.)

XLV.

The first part of the faire widow of Watling Street and her 3 daughters, and how her wicked sonne accused her to be a harlot, and his sisters bastards, only to deceibe them of their portions.

To the tune of Bragandary.

XLVI.

The second part of the Widow of Watling-streete, and her three Daughters.

To the tune of the Wanton Wife.

Imprinted at London for T. P.

These two ballads (the first and second part) were entered in the Stationers' Registers by Richard Jones, August 15, 1597. The play of the same title (ascribed to Shakspeare) was taken from them.

(The tunes of "Bragandary" and the "Wanton Wife" are unknown. The ballad of "The Wanton Wife of Bath" is printed in the first edition of Bishop Percy's Reliques, but omitted in all the subsequent ones.)

XLVII.

The rie of the poore for the death of the Right Honorable the Earl of Huntingdon.

To the tune of the Earle of Bedford.

Printed at London for William Blackwall, and are to be sold at his shoppe nere Guild-Hall gate 1596.

[Woodcut at the beginning. Woodcut border all round and in the centre.]

(Henry Hastings, second Earl of Huntingdon, K.G., who died at York 14th December, 1595, and was buried at Ashby-de-la-Zouch. The expenses of his funeral were defrayed by the Queen.)

(The tune here mentioned is not known.)

XLVIII.

A Ballad against slander and detraction.

Gar call him downe gar call him downe gar call him downe downe a.
 God send the faction of all detraction call downe and cast away.

Finis Q. Haywood.

Imprinted at Londo at the log Shop adjoining unto Saint Mildreds Church in the Pultrie by John Alde.

[Plain border in the centre, and all round.]

(An unrecorded ballad of old John Heywood, the author of "The Spider and the Fly.")

XLIX.

A proper new ballad sheweing that Philosophers Learnynges are full of good Warnynges. And songe to the tune of my Lorde Marques Galyarde, or the firste traces of Due passa.

Finis Q. W. Elderton

Imprinted at London in Fleetestreet beneath the Conduit, at the signe of Sainte John Evangelist, by Thomas Colwell.

(This ballad is nowhere mentioned. The tune of "My Lorde Marquis Galyarde" is unknown.)

L.

The first part of the Marchants Daughter of Bristow.

To the tune of The Maydens Joy.

LI.

The second part of the Marchants Daughter of Bristow.

To the tune of the Maidens Joy.

Printed at London for William Blackwall.

[Woodcut border at top and end.]

(This interesting ballad is mentioned in Fletcher's "Monsieur Thomas," act iii., scene 3, by the name of "Maudlin the Merchant's Daughter;" and has been reprinted, from a comparatively modern copy, in Mr. Collier's volume of Roxburghe Ballads. The tune is unknown.)

LII.

Of Ebyll Tongues.

Finis. Q. T. Canand.

LIII.

I Praye For You Fower. I Defende you Fower. I Vanquish You Fower.
 I Helpe You ALL to Your Right. I Feede You Fower. I Kill
 You All.

Marke well the effect, purtreyed here in all;
 The King that rules, the Lawyer in the hall,
 The Prelate with his dignities renowne,
 The Harlot and the countrey toying Clowne.

Howe and which way together they agree,
 And what their talke and conference might be.
 Each to their cause, for guard of their degree,
 And yet death is the conquerour you see.

[Woodcut, coloured, representing the Bishop, the King, the Harlot, the Lawyer, the Country Clown, and Death.]

LIV.

O marbelous tydynges both Wonders Old and New
 The Debyll is endited yf many men's wordes be tru.

Printed by Cornells Wolthrop dwellyng at Saynt Antonies.

[Woodcut at the top.]

---

LV.

Othet thus it is: or thus it shoulde bee.

Imprinted at London without Aldersgate, in little Brittain by Alexander Lacy.

Congratulating England that "The Golden World is now come agayne," and that "Kynges and Princes, doe Gods laws aduance;" that "Maijestrates and officers; Bishops and Ministers; Judges, Justices, and Gentlemen; Mayours and Bayliffes; Lawyers, &c.," do their duty, "each one in his degree." That the "Commons feare God, and obey the Queene (!!!);" that "Parents doe bryng up their children godly, and that subjects faithfully pray for their Queene."

[Plain border all round. Device at the beginning.]

LVI.

Sapartons Alarum, to all such as do heare
 The name of the true Souldiers, in England, or els where.

Finis. John Saparton.

Imprinted at London in Fleete Streete, by William How for Richard Johnes, and are to be solde at his Shoppe under the Lotterie House.

(Saparton is a new name in ballad literature.)

---

LVII.

Of Trust and Triall.

Finis. B. C.

("B. C." was probably Bartholomew Chappell, celebrated for his controversy with Thomas Camell.)

---

LVIII.

A Ballad.

The first verse runs thus:—

Loe here the pearle,
 Whom God and man doth love,
 Loe here on earth,
 The onely starre of light:
 Loe here the Queene,
 Whom no mishap can move
 To chaunge her mynde,
 From vertues chief delight.

[With a coloured Woodcut Portrait of Queen Elizabeth, with Crown, Sceptre, and Ball.]

(Gifford says, "In Jonson's time, scarcely any ballad was printed without a woodcut illustrative of its subject. If it was a ballad of 'pure love,' or of 'good life,' which afforded no scope for the graphic talents of the Grub-street Apelles, the portrait of 'good Queen Elizabeth,' magnificently adorned, with the globe and sceptre, formed no unwelcome substitute for her loving subjects.")

LIX.

As pleasant a dittie as your hart can wish,
Shewing what unkindness befell by a Kisse

At London printed for T. P.

[Rich woodcut, border top and bottom.]

---

LX.

A balade of a preist that loste his nose
For sayinge of Masse as I suppose.

Finis.

God save the Quene.

A caustic satire against "Olde Syr John the Vycar of Lee, which rayles at God's boke and reeles at his Masse;" and whose "smeller is smitten cleane from his face" for so doing.

LXI.

A mery balade, how a wife entreated her Husband to have her owne wyll.

Finis. Quod. T. W. T.

Imprinted at London by Alexander Lacy.

A ludicrous dialogue between a "yong man and his wife," only a month or more married! touching dress, pleasure-taking, and domestic economy. The lady asks for "one thyng," viz., to have the use of her "tounge, eyther to chyde, or els to sing," with a few supplementary trifles. The gentleman replies somewhat ungallantly,

No wyfe I am your head
Wherefore I pray you my counsell take,
And let such tricks in you be dead
Least that for it your bones doe ake:
Therefore learne betime to brue and bake, &c.

[Plain border all round. Woodcut device at the end, Death and the Lady.]

LXII.

A mery new Song how a Bruer meant to make a Cooper cuckold, and how deere the Bruer paid for the bargaine.

To the tune of In Somertime.

(The tune here mentioned is preserved in "The Courte of Vertue," by John Hall, 1565.)

---

LXIII.

A merie newe Ballad intituled the pinnng of the Basket:

And is to bee songe to the tune of the doune right Squire.

Imprinted at London for Henrie Kirkham, and are to be sold at his shop, at the little North doore of Paules, at the signe of the blacke Boye.

The comical humours of a "Joyner's man, of a chandler ('a quiet man!'), and his shrewish wife." The burden is "Tantara, tantara, tantara."

[Woodcut border all round.]

("Down right Squire, or Gibson's Tantara," is one of the tunes referred to in "The Handefull of Pleasant Delites," 1584. It is not known.)

LXIV.

A prettie new Ballad, intytuled :

The Crowe sits upon the wall,
Please one and please all.

To the tune of, Please one and please all.

Finis. R. T.

[Woodcut of a lady with a fan of feathers at the top, plain border all round.]

(This interesting Shakespearian ballad has been reprinted, by the permission of Mr. Daniel, in the first number of "Memorabilia." It is written by Tarleton, and quoted by Malvolio in "Twelfth Night.")

LXV.

A Ditty delightfull of mother watkins ale
A warning well wayed, though counted a tale.

The existence of this ballad has been questioned. "Mother Watkins ale" was supposed to have been the Title to a "Round," or Country dance; the music, without the words, having been discovered among the papers of Dr. Pepusch, who set the songs in the "Beggars Opera." Before this copy appeared it was unknown.

[Woodcut border top and bottom.]

(This ballad is mentioned in a letter with the signature of T. N. to his good friend A. M. [Anthony Munday], prefixed to the latter's translation of "Gerileon of England," 1592. "I should hardly be perswaded that anie professor of so excellent a science (as printing) would be so impudent to print such ribauldrie as Watkin's Ale, The Carman's Whistle, and sundrie such other." The tune is preserved in Queen Elizabeth's Virginal Book, in the Fitzwilliam Museum, Cambridge.)

LXVI.

A new balade entituled as foloweth,

To such as write in Metres, I write
Of small matters an exhortation,
By readyng of which men may delite
In such as be worthy commendation.
My verse also it hath relation
To such as print, that they doe it well,
The better they shall their Metres sell.
And when we have doen al that ever we can,
Let us never seek prayse at the mouth of man.

Finis by R. B.

Imprinted at S. Katherins besyde the Towre of London, by Alexander Lacie.

[Plain border all round.]

("R. B." was the author of "The Plowman's Complaint," and of several other broadsides printed about 1580.)

LXVII.

A Balade declaring how neybourhed lobe, and trew dealyng is gone,

Qd. Jhon Barker.

Imprinted at London by Richard Lant.

Where shall one fynde a man to trust,
 Alwaye to stande in tyme of neede;
 Thee most parte now, they are unjust—
 Fayre in wordes, but false in deede;
 Neighbourhed nor love is none
 trew dealyng now is fled and gone.

(John Barker has hitherto only been known as the author of a ballad on the destruction of Jerusalem, printed by Colwell in 1568, a copy of which (probably unique) is preserved in the Miller Collection. His name occurs several times in the course of our Catalogue.)

LXVIII.

A Newe Secte of Friars called Capichini.

A fierce invective against "These newe, freshe come Friars, sprong up of late, that doe nowe within Andwarpe (Antwerp) keepe their abidinge."

[Woodcut of two friars at the top, coloured.]

LXIX.

A merbaylous straunge deformed Swyne.

Finis. T. P.

Imprinted at London by William How, for Richard Johnes: and are to be solde at his Shop joyning to the Southwest doore of Paules Church.

[Woodcut of a swine, inclosed in a plain border, at the top. Prose and Verse.]

("T. P." was, perhaps, Thomas Proctor, the author of many "pretty pamphlets.")

LXX.

Franklins Farewell to the World,
 With his Christian Contrition in Prison before his Death.

Printed at London for Henry Gosson.

[A very rich woodcut border all round.]

(This ballad, the last of the series, relates to James Franklin, who was executed for his share in the murder of Sir Thomas Overbury. H. Gosson was a celebrated ballad-printer in the reign of James I. He died in 1635, when his stock was purchased by Coles, Vere, and Wright.)

CONTAINED IN A FOLIO VOLUME.

|         | * * * Many of these ballads illustrate the Habits and Customs of a much earlier period, some of them being founded on Stories made use of by Shakespeare, while many of his contemporaries deigned to form Dramas upon others. The cuts were no doubt used for much earlier editions, now lost to us. It may fairly be stated that they are all curious, many from local circumstances illustrating the County History of England. A list of the Contents, in Mr. Daniel's extremely neat handwriting, is on the fly leaf. |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |    |    |   |

|       | * * This volume belonged to Herbert Croft, Esq. as is testified by the coeval lettering on the back, and has many notes and corrections by his hand, also his portrait, a proof, inserted . Subsequently it became the property of F. G. Waldron, and, while in his possession, was used by the late Dr. R. Southey during the publication of Chatterton's collected Works, 3 vol. 8vo. On the volume being returned, it was accompanied by a note from Thomas Hill, Esq. (the Theatrical Critic, Editor of the Monthly Mirror, the original of Poole's Paul Pry, &c.) dated 30th May, 1802. This note remains in the volume, which has illustrative engravings, Newspaper Cuttings, Copies of some of Chatterton's Unpublished Pieces, &c. and was purchased, in 1818, at the sale of Mr. Waldron's library, in May of that year, by the late Mr. Daniel, whose Eulogy of the unfortunate Poet, from the Modern Dunciad, 1835, transcribed by its late possessor, is in this interesting volume. |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |   |    |  |

|        |   | This copy, formerly Bindley's, which sold for £34. 13s., is supposed to be UNIQUE. The dedication "to the Right Worshipfull Sir Edward Winckfield, Knight," is marked only with the initials A. C., but the name of the author is ascertained by a reference to the work, in Nash's "Have With You to Saffron Walden," 1596,—"So he did by Chute's Shore's Wife and his Procris and Cephalus, and a number of Pamphlagonian things more." It was afterwards in the Jolley collection, at the sale of which it realized £35. It is considerably rarer than Shakespeare's Lucrece, with which poem it may be classed. |                                            |    |    |   |

- 3 10 395 Cotton (Charles, the friend of Izaak Walton). Scarronides; or, Virgile Travestie: a Mock Poem on the First and Fourth Books of Virgil's Æneïs, in English burlesque in a blue morocco case
Svo. For H. Brome, at the Gun, in St. Paul's Churchyard, 1678
* * This copy was formerly in the possession of Sir Wm. Hanham, Bart. of Dean's Court, Dorset, and has his book-plate, also his autograph, dated 1712. In the course of time it passed to Sir Henry Ellis, of the British Museum, who generously presented it to the late W. Pickering (the much respected publisher of Piccadilly), as is attested by an autograph inscription June 1, 1831.
- 7 6 396 Cotton (Charles) Genuine Poetical Works (Virgil Travestie, the Scoffer Scoffed, Wonders of the Peake), cuts, fifth edition, old gilt calf, 1765

- 13 5 403 COWPER (W.) FOUR AUTOGRAPH LETTERS TO HIS FRIEND SAMUEL ROSE, one having a Postscript by Lady Hesketh, AND TWO OTHER LETTERS TO LADY HESKETH, also in his handwriting
ILLUSTRATED WITH PROOF PORTRAITS OF THE POET, red morocco 4to. 1788-94
* * The four long and extremely interesting autograph Letters to Rose contain curious Descriptions of Vinny Bourne, his Translation of Homer, Mrs. Unwin, his own dejection of spirits, &c. The first letter to Lady Hesketh, a most interesting document relating to himself, is in verse, and is entitled, "Benefactions, a Poem in Shenstone's manner, addressed to my dear Coz. (Lady Hesketh), April 14, 1788," giving a catalogue of his furniture, books, wardrobe, &c. The second, commencing "My dearest Coz" mentions having been "very ill" . . . "by that excruciating disorder with which God visited the Philistines," and includes a Sonnet to W. Wilberforce, Esq.

A remarkably enchanting volume replete with curiosity and interest

* * A list of the singularly curious, and peculiarly rare matters in this volume, in the very neat hand of the late Mr. Daniel, is prefixed. Probably no other suburb of London has been so successfully illustrated as Islington, Mr. Daniel having possessed peculiar facilities for this purpose from having resided in the parish for more than half a century.

477 DRAMA. Remarks, Critical and Biographical, on the British Drama, by George Daniel, Esq. green morocco, 7 vol. 12mo.

* * * The Contents of these volumes consist of the Critical Remarks printed in the first 32 vols. of Cumberland's British Theatre, and vol. 1 to 6 of the Mirror. Illustrated by the author with upwards of SEVEN HUNDRED AND TWENTY DRAWINGS, PROOF PRINTS OR CHOICE IMPRESSIONS OF SCENIC AND STAGE REPRESENTATIONS, &c. MANY VERY RARE AND INTERESTING PLATES.

To these will be added, four other volumes, also in morocco, but not of a similar hue, containing Criticisms by Mr. Daniel on Plays published at a later period; also containing Early Impressions or Proofs of the Embellishments in Cumberland's Popular Series of Dramatic Publications.

The lover of Scenic Representation in these volumes will find pleasing Engraved Mementoes of admired favourites, while the printed Criticism will serve to refresh his recollections, and fix the peculiar beauties of the performer on the remembrance, for all future time.

|    |    |  | A most singularly curious volume, the copy in the Capell Collection, at Cambridge, being the only other one known to exist . As the book is quite unknown to our literary antiquaries, the titles of a few of the chapters will be read with interest:—"How Sir Thomas Pentley (of Durham) adopted George Dobson for his Sonne;" "How the boyes of the Schoole caused George Dobson to be whipt for their fault;" "How Dobson deceived his friend Raikebaines of a pudding, and how he shut him uppe in the candle cupboord;" "How Dobson brewed ale for his uncle;" "How Dobson tooke upon him a gentleman's estate, and how hee caused the alewife of Wittan to come before the Commissarie;" "How Dobson stole a goose, and roasted her;" "How Dobson devised a holyday, and endangered his fellowes a whipping;" "Howe Dobson became an oastler and a serving man, howe he beate his mistris for the love of her maide, and how he should have hanged for riding away with his Maisters horse, and of his end," &c. |        |

** Isaac Reed's copy, with two Autograph Letters [containing corrections to the Fleece, &c.] of the Author added.
- 38 10 " 576 ECCLESIASTES; otherwise called the Preacher, containing Solomons Sermons, or Commentaries (as it probably may be called) upon the XLIX Psalme of David his Father, dilated in English Poesie, composed by H. L. (i. e. Henry Locke), Gentleman, whereunto are annexed sundrie Sonets of CHRISTIAN PASSIONS heretofore printed, and now Corrected and Augmented; with other affectionate Sonets of a Feeling Conscience, of the same Author
obtained by Mr. Daniel from a private friend, in 1844, and, therefore, never before now, submitted for competition
sm. 4to. Printed for R. Field, dwelling in the Blackefriers near Ludgate, 1597
** A POETICAL VOLUME OF THE EXTREME RARITY: of which no copy was possessed by West, Pearson, Farmer, Steevens or Reed; and it may reasonably be inferred that Ritson, quoting only from Anthony à Wood, had never seen one. The third portion of the volume contains 12 Sonnets, the running headline of which is, "Affections of a Feeling Conscience," and the whole ends with "a Table to the Third Centenarie of Sonets," on v. 6. The work possesses two dedications to Queen Elizabeth.
- " 8 6 577 Edwin and Emma. Baskerville's finely printed edition, 1760, illustrated with views of local subjects, drawn and etched by George Arnald
4to. Longman, 1810
** See Note and Quotations in the handwriting of Mr. Daniel.

* * This production is of the greatest interest, and, as an exemplification of literary candour, highly curious, the Poet not only having explained in his manuscript notes upon the margins, the passages in the Odes which had been thought obscure, but acknowledged the various sources from which he had borrowed aid for their composition; the Notes richly illustrate Gray's declared reasons for giving such assistance to his readers, "partly from justice, to acknowledge a debt when I had borrowed any thing; partly from ill-temper, just to tell the gentle reader that Edward the First was not Oliver Cromwell, nor Queen Elizabeth the Witch of Endor." The volume possesses all the importance of a Manuscript, and is also of interest in connexion with Horace Walpole, who in a letter to Chute (July 12, 1757) writes—"With what do you think we open? Credite, Romani Impressores—with nothing under Gravii Carmina. I found him in town last week; he had brought his two Odes to be printed. I snatched them out of Dodsley's hands, and they are to be the first fruits of my press." Gray has marked the musical time, and the directions for accompaniment, to the second Ode, The Bard.

To the Odes Mr. Daniel has added;

Autograph of the Song written for Miss Speed, "Thrysis when we parted swore," with a transcript of the song in another hand; also of the amatory lines commencing, "Midst Beauty and Pleasure's gay triumphs to languish." Both the original MS. and the transcript possess variations from these compositions as printed.

Autograph of a beautiful Epitaph "On a Child," which is supposed to be inedited. Autograph Letter of Miss Speed to Gray, and an Autograph Letter (signed T. G.) from Gray to the Rev. James Brown, respecting the reception of the Odes at Cambridge; also, Several Portraits of Gray, at different stages of his life, one of them a rare proof from the Strawberry Hill Collection, and some other interesting matter, thus forming a volume of great value, interest, and importance, elucidatory of the genius of the great Poet.

- 788 HAWKYNGE (THE BOKE OF), AND HUNTYNGE AND FYSSHYNGE (The)
woodcuts, in prose and verse

black letter, fine copy in brown morocco extra, g. e. 4to.

Here endeth the boke of hawkynge, huntynge and fysshynge and with many other dyver maters. Imprynted in Flete Strete at the sygne of y Sonne by Wynkyn de Worde, n. d.

*** UNIQUE. "I consider this edition to be earlier than the folio by Wynkyn de Worde, printed in 1496. It is unknown to all bibliographers. This copy was not purchased at publick sale, but came into my hands from the same party in the country, from whom I obtained my matchless collection of rare old black-letter ballads, and other rarities of hardly less interest and value."—MS. note by Mr. Daniel.

At the end of this most rare and curious volume is inserted the original title-page of a later edition of this work, with two woodcuts.

FIRST EDITION, A COPY OF EXTRAORDINARY BEAUTY

ruled with red lines in the old olive morocco binding, g. e. tooled sides

12mo. Cambridge, printed by Thomas Buck and Roger Daniel, and are to be sold by Francis Green, Stationer, in Cambridge, without a date

*** A few copies of this volume were presented to the author's friends, no date being affixed to the title; it was afterwards issued with a title, as being printed by Thom. Buck and Roger Daniel, dated 1633.

A MORE BEAUTIFUL COPY DOES NOT EXIST. Its first known appearance was at the Rev. John Brand's Sale in 1807, when it was purchased by Mr. Heber. A portrait of Herbert by R. White has been added by Mr. Daniel.

- 794 HERBERT. The same
 SECOND EDITION, portrait by R. White inserted

- *** A MOST BEAUTIFUL COPY OF AN OLD ENGLISH POEM NOT ONLY RARE BUT UNIQUE.
- 74 11 798 HERE BEGYNNETH A TREATYSE HOW THE HYE FADER OF HEUEN SENDETH DETHE TO SOMON EUERY CREATURE TO COME AND GYVE ACOUNTE OF THEYR LYUES IN THIS WORLDE, AND IS IN MANER OF A MORALL PLAYE black letter, brown morocco extra, g. e. 4to. John Scott, n. d.
UNIQUE. A MOST BEAUTIFUL COPY OF AN UNKNOWN EDITION OF THIS VERY CURIOUS RELIC OF THE OLD ENGLISH DRAMA. In addition to a large woodcut on the title there are six curious cuts on wood of the Dramatis Personæ not found in the only other edition. This most precious volume is from the celebrated collection of the late Mr. Caldecott.
- 54 799 HERE IS THE BOKE OF MAYD EMLYN THAT HAD V. HUSBANDES AND ALL KOCKOLDES—SHE WOLD MAKE THEYR BERDES WHETHER THEY WOLD OR NO/ AND GYVE THEM TO WERE A PRATY HOODE FULL OF BELLES black letter, in verse, large woodcut on title
a beautiful copy, in dark green morocco extra, g. e.
4to. Imprynted at London without Newegate in Saynt Pulkers parysshe by me John Skot dwellynge in y<sup>e</sup> Olde Bayly, n. d.
- *** UNIQUE. From the Caldecott Library. Nothing that we could add would enhance the value and curiosity of this most singular piece of early English poetry.
- 38 17 800 HE[RE] BEGYNNETH AN INTERLOCUCYON WITH AN ARGUMENT BETWYXT MAN AND WOMAN, AND WHICHE OF THEM COULD PROUE TO BE MOST EXCELLENT, in verse, woodcuts
black letter, UNIQUE a beautiful copy, dark blue morocco extra, g. e. Wynkyn de Worde, n. d.
- *** "This poem has no colophon, but Wynkyn de Worde's device is at the end. It was unknown to Herbert, and Dr. Dibdin's description was derived from this copy. It is probably, like many similar tracts of the time, a translation from the French, and the words La femme replique before one of the speeches tends to establish the fact. The author feigns that, as he was walking under the shade of trees, he heard a contention between a man and a woman as to the comparative excellency of the two sexes. The references and examples on both sides are chiefly scriptural. The woman has the last word."—MS. note by Mr. Daniel.

574 . 890 XII MERY JESTS OF THE WYDDOW EDYTH

light brown morocco extra, g. e.

4to. 1573

*** A MOST BEAUTIFUL COPY OF ONE OF THE RAREST BOOKS IN THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE, the only other known copy being in the Bodleian Library. On the title-page we are told that the book contains—

No fained stories, but matters in deed
Of xij, of her Jestes here may ye rede,
Now newly printed this present yeare,
For such as delite mery Jestes for to here.

According to the "Preface," the widow Edith was the daughter of John Haukyn of Exeter, but he dying, she was brought up and educated by her mother in all kinds of lying and artifice—

Chargyng her upon her blessing
That she ne should medle with any thing
That sowned unto good huswyfry,
But aye study to forge and lye, &c.

She afterwards married a person of the name of Ellys, but eloped from him with a servant of the Earl of Wiltshire. The title-page of this edition also states that she lived "in the time of King Henry the Eighth." These Jests exhibit a highly curious description of manners, and the stories are very entertaining, all displaying the cunning and frauds of the widow.—MS. note by Mr. Daniel.

644 . 891 HERE BEGYNNETH A MERRY IESTE OF A SHREWDE AND CURSTE WYFE, LAPPED IN MORRELLES SKIN FOR HER GOOD BEHAUYOUR*black letter, blue morocco, g. e. a fine copy*

THE ONLY PERFECT ONE KNOWN

4to. Imprinted at London in Fleetestreete beneath the Conduite, at the signe of Saint Iohn Euangelist, by H. Jackson, n. d.

*** "The only known copy of this most interesting and rare tract, beside the present one, is that contained in the celebrated Selden volume at Oxford, but that wants the title-page. The precise date of this "Merry Jeste" has not been ascertained, but, according to Herbert, Hugh Jackson printed no book with a later date than 1590. This poem is imitated from one of the early French Fabliaux, and doubtless preceded the original play of the Taming of a Shrew, 1594, purchased from the Heber Collection for the Duke of Devonshire for £94., the last bidder but one being Mr. Thorpe, who had my commission to buy it. The author of this Jeste is unknown, Mr. Utterson being quite correct in thinking that Mayster Charmeher at the end is an ironical title, referring to the remedy found so effectual in the Taming of a Shrew, for the tract ends thus,—

"He that can charme a shrewde wyfe, &c."

"The present copy was lent by Mr. Heber to Mr. Utterson to supply the defective leaf in the Selden volume, when he printed his Select Pieces of Early Popular Poetry."—MS. note by Mr. Daniel, 1836.

To the above note we have nothing to add except that the volume was evidently printed long previously to 1590, and that it is one of the most intrinsically curious, as it is undoubtedly one of the very rarest pieces of old English popular poetry known to exist.

JESTS—continued.

- 892 PASQUILL'S JESTS; WITH THE MERRIMENTS OF MOTHER BUNCH, Wittie, Pleasant and Delightfull
black letter, fine copy in russia, blind tooled
4to. London, Printed for M. F., are to be sold by Francis Coles, dwelling in the Old Baily, n. d.
 * * Only one other copy of this edition of this very curious Jest-Book is known to exist.
- 893 SKELTON'S JESTS: MERRIE TALES, NEWLY IMPRINTED AND MADE BY MASTER SKELTON, POET LAUREAT
black letter, fine copy in red morocco extra, enriched with gilt and blind tooling
4to. Imprinted at London, in Fleet Street beneath the Conduit at the signe of S. John Evangelist, by Thomas Caldwell, n. d.
 * * THE ONLY PERFECT COPY KNOWN. A note on the extreme rarity and value of this most curious and precious little tome would be really superfluous.
- 894 FOOLE UPON FOOLE, OR SIXE SORTES OF SOTTES, a flat Foole, a leane Foole, a merry Foole, a fatt Foole, a cleane Foole, and a verrie Foole, shewing their lives, humours and behaviours, with their want of witte in their shew of wisdom. Not so strange as true, interspersed with Poetry black letter 4to. London, Printed for William Ferbrand, dwelling in Popes-head Allie neare the Royall Exchange, 1605
 * * AN UN CUT COPY OF A UNIQUE AND HITHERTO UNKNOWN most curious early English Jest-book, of extreme interest and literary value. It agrees in the main with Armin's Nest of Ninnies, the latter being a re-production of this, but there are several variations in the text. It would be difficult to indicate a volume of the kind more intrinsically curious, or more illustrative of the early English stage and players, and domestic fools.
- 895 BOARD (A.). SCOGIN'S JESTS, FULL OF WITTY MIRTH AND PLEASANT SHIFTS, done by him in France and other places, being a Preservative against Melancholy
black letter, no title, but with the original extraordinarily rare and curious woodcut of Tarlton, 1611
dark blue morocco with blind tooling, g. e. 4to.
 * * This Edition of Tarlton is, we believe, UNIQUE. No other copy is found in any of our libraries, nor has one besides the present occurred for sale, North's imperfect copy being, as we understand, of another impression. The woodcut of Tarlton inserted is of great curiosity and value, and is all but unique. It was bought at the sale of the Towneley Prints.
- 896 JESTS. WITS, FITS AND FANCIES, or a Generall and Serious Collection of the Sententious Speeches, Answers, Jestes and Behaviours of all sortes of Estates, from the Throane to the Cottage, newly corrected and augmented black letter, RARE, blue morocco, g. e. 4to. Edward Allde, 1614
- 897 GRATIE LUDENTES, IESTS FROM THE UNIVERSITIE, by H. L. Oxen fine copy in the original binding, in blue morocco case
12mo. Printed at London by Tho. Cotes, for Humphrey Mosley, 1628
 * * A very quaint and curious jest-book of most excessive rarity, believed to be UNIQUE. The date has been altered by a pen to 1638.

JESTS—continued.

- 10 15 . 898 PEELE'S JESTS. Merrie Conceited Jests of George Peele, gentleman, sometimes a Student in Oxford, wherein is shewed the course of his life, how he liued, a man very well knowne in the Citie of London and elsewhere:
 Buy, reade, and iudge,
 The price doe not grudge—
 It will doe thee more pleasure
 Then twice so much treasure.
black letter, fine copy, half green morocco, very scarce
 4to. London, printed by G. P. for F. Faulkner, and are to be sold at his shop in Southwarke
 neere Saint Margaret's Hill, 1627
- 16 10 . 899 THE BOOKE OF BULLS, BAITED WITH TWO CENTURIES OF BOLD JESTS AND NIMBLE LIES, or a Combat betweene Sence and Non-Sence, being at strife who shall infuse most Myrth into the gentle Reader, a Treatise in variety of pleasure second to none ever yet printed in the English Tongue, wherein is contained nothing alreadie published. Collected by A. S. Gent.
olive morocco extra, g. e.
 12mo. Imprinted at London for Daniel Frere, and are to be sold at the Bull in Little Brittain, 1636
 * * A beautiful and perfect copy of one of the most intrinsically curious jest-books in the English language, not only excessively rare, but UNIQUE.
- 12 15 . 900 A NEW BOOKE OF MISTAKES, OR BULLS WITH TALES, AND BULLS WITHOUT TALES, but no lyes by any meanes, wants one leaf
olive morocco extra, g. e. 12mo. Printed at London by N. O. 1637
 * * A most singularly curious collection of ancient bulls and jests. UNIQUE. Mr. Daniel is inclined to attribute the authorship to Brathwait.
- 54 12 . 901 ROBIN GOOD-FELLOW, HIS MAD PRANKES AND MERRY IESTS. FULL OF HONEST MIRTH, AND IS A FIT MEDICINE FOR MELANCHOLY
black letter, large and curious woodcut fine copy, olive morocco extra, g. e.
 4to. Printed at London by Thomas Cotes, and are to be sold by Francis Grove at his shop on Snow-hill,
 neere the Sarazens-head, 1639
 * * UNIQUE, the present copy of BOTH PARTS of this most curious jest-book, bought by Mr. Daniel at Sir F. Freeling's sale for £25. 10s., being the only copy ever discovered. It is singularly illustrative of Shakespeare's beautiful play of the Midsummer Night's Dream, and throws more light upon the Old Fairy Mythology of England than any other work which has descended to our times.
- 6 . 902 HOBSON'S JESTS. The Pleasant Conceits of Old Hobson the Merry Londoner, full of humorous discourses and wittie merriments black letter, a unique edition, but imperfect, unbound 12mo.
- 1 1 . 903 HOBSON'S JESTS. Another edition, large woodcut
black letter, A UNIQUE EDITION, containing additional jests, but the last four leaves are supplied from another edition of equal rarity
green morocco extra, with rich gold borders 12mo. Printed at London for William Gilbertson, dwelling in Gilt-spur Street at the signe of the Bible, 1640

Epigrams and other Poems by R. C., front.
a fine copy in the original binding, in a green morocco case
12mo. Printed by R. Hodgkinson, 1640

* * "This very curious jest-book is, in its present state, UNIQUE. It is unnoticed by bibliographers. See a long account of it in Collier's Farther Particulars regarding Shakespeare, 1839. The Poems are undescribed by Collier, who had never seen a perfect copy. One jest regarding Shakespeare, No. 391, is not found in any other work."—MS. note by Mr. Daniel.

- 905 A BANQUET OF JESTS, new and old, (in Prose and Verse) full length
portrait of "Archee the Kinges Jester," by T. Cecill
fine copy, very scarce, in a case 12mo. 1657

- 906 BREWER (T.). MERRY JESTS OF SMUG THE SMITH, OR THE LIFE AND DEATH OF THE MERRY DIVEL OF EDMONTON, with the pleasant pranks of Smug the Smith, Sir John and mine Host of the George, about the stealing of Venison. Whereunto is added Mr. Peter's Fables and Smugs Ghost, woodcuts

black letter

fine copy, in red calf, g. e. 4to. London, printed for Francis Coles dwelling in the Old Bayley, 1657

* * UNIQUE. This most quaint and interesting jest-book is dated 1657 on the title-page, and wrongly 1567 on the last leaf, where is a large woodcut representing—

Here Smug the Smith, with leave of his host,
Doth baffle the Keepers upon a signe-post.

- 907 HUGH PETERS. The Tales and Jests of Mr. Hugh Peters, collected into one volume. Published by one that hath formerly been conversant with the Author in his life-time, with the very rare portrait of Hugh Peters, "No life to lechery-Hugh Peters, the first and the last"
with copy of the same, and copy of another rare portrait inserted
red morocco extra, g. e. 4to. 1660

- 908 JEST-BOOK. Versatile Ingenium, the Wittie Companion, or Jests of all Sorts, from Citie and Countrie, Court and Universitie, by Democritus junior, print inserted very fine copy in green morocco extra, g. e. 8vo. 1679

- 909 England Jests, refined and improved, being a Choice Collection of the Merriest Jests, Smartest Repartees, Wittiest Sayings, and most Notable Bulls yet extant, front. with eight heads
very scarce 12mo. J. Harris, 1687

- 910- England's Jests, refined and improved, being a Choice Collection of the Merriest Jests, Smartest Repartees, Wittiest Sayings, and most Notable Bulls yet extant, to which are added XIV Ingenious

JESTS—continued.

- 3 4 . 911 England's Merry Jester, or the Court, City and Country Jests, with a Second Part of Bulls, Banters, Quibbles, and the Art of Wheadling, frontispiece after P. Bouche calf, g. e. J. Wilde for N. Boddington, 1693
- 3 7 . 912 Apollo's Feast, or Wits Entertainment, consisting of Pleasant Intrigues, Delightful Stories, Ingenious Poems, Witty Repartees, Merry Bulls, Old Tales, Novels, Prologues and Epilogues, published by the Author of Pills to purge Melancholy (T. Durfey) morocco, g. e. rare 12mo. 1703
- 6 12 . 913 OXFORD JESTS, refined and enlarged, collected by Capt. W. Hicke, fourteenth edition, woodcut of the Clarendon Printing Office and Oxford Arms, no date
CAMBRIDGE JESTS, or Witty Alarum for Melancholy Spirits, by a Lover of Ha Ha Ha, 1742
LONDON JESTS, or a Collection of the Choicest Joques and Repartees, the second edition, woodcut frontispiece, representation of the Royal Exchange, 1735 12mo. 3 vol. in 1
- 1 19 . 914 London Jests; or a Collection of the Choicest Jokes and Repartees out of most celebrated Authors, Ancient and Modern THIRD EDITION, frontispiece of the City Arms, &c. 12mo. n. d.
- 10 . . 915 Penkethman's Jests, or Wit Refined, being a New Year's Gift for Young Gentlemen and Ladies, containing a Collection of Moral, Satyrical and Comical Jests, Elegant Witty Sayings, &c. the second edition, corrected, 1721—Second Part of Penkethman's Jests, or Wit Refined, containing, I. A Collection of the most Comical Songs, Catches and Dialogues extant; II. A Collection of Penkethman's Merry Prologues and Epilogues; III. Merry Elegies, Epitaphs, Epigrams, Tales, with other Witty and Comical Pieces, 1721, together 2 vol.
FINE COPY, blue morocco, g. e. sm. 8vo. 1721
- 9 . . 916 Spiller's Jests, or the Life and Pleasant Adventures of the late celebrated Comedian Mr. James Spiller, portrait, n. d.—Cibber (C.) The Rival Queens, Dublin, 1729—Progress of a Rake, 1732—Harlot's Progress, with Hogarth's small plates, n. d.—Court Dunciad, frontispiece, 1733, morocco, g. e. 8vo. in one vol.
- * * This is an exceedingly rare Collection of Tracts. "Spiller's Jests" (viz. his Life, with a new title-page) I have never seen in any other Collection. "The Rival Queens" is not printed in Colley Cibber's Works. Of this I never saw a second copy. "The Progress of a Rake" I believe to be very rare, and "The Harlot's Progress," with Hogarth's small plates, I have seen produce Three Guineas, and by no means in such a good state as the present one. Of "The Court Dunciad" I have never seen a second copy. George Daniel.—MS. note.
- 3 . . 917 Polly Peachum's Jests, half bound, uncut, rare 8vo. 1728

|      |      | * * OF EXTREME RARITY. This tract is of singular curiosity, giving a remarkably interesting account of Banks' celebrated dancing horse, immortalized by Shakespeare in Love's Labour's Lost. This horse went up to the top of St. Paul's, and did a lot of the most astounding tricks, for some of which, when travelling abroad, his unfortunate master was condemned and executed for witchery. Not the least interesting part of the tract is a large woodcut of Banks and the dancing horse, one of the most curious illustrations of Shakespeare known to exist. |                                       |           |

EXTREMELY RARE
4to. London, Printed by T. C., and are to be solde by Mathew Lawe dwelling in Paules Churchyard, 1604

*** This very rare and curious work is not mentioned by Lowndes in the first edition. It commences with a Poetical Dialogue between Warre, Famine, and Pestilence. The Tales of my Landlord then follow, "where the Fatte Host telles Tales at the upper end of the Table." Mine Host, however, has not all the conversation to himself, the guests coming in for a very fair share. One of the interlocutors, Gingle-spur, alludes to one of Shakespeare's plays:—"This was a prettie Comedy of Errors, my round host;" to which my Round Host makes the following reply:—"O, my bullies, there was many such a part plaide uppon the stage both of the cittie and the suburbs."—MS. Note by Mr. Daniel.

The present is, indeed, the only copy that has ever occurred. It was purchased at the sale of George Chalmers' Library for £15 15s., and is the only copy cited by Mr. Bohn in his new edition of Lowndes.

* * A VERY BEAUTIFUL COPY OF ONE OF THE MOST CURIOUS BOOKS IN THE WHOLE RANGE OF OLD ENGLISH POETRY, AND UNIQUE. It is seldom that a unique book of this period offers so much of real sterling interest. It is a collection of ballads, a list of a few of which will show the value of the collection:—"A dyttie expressing a familiar controversie between Wit and Will, wherein Wit mildlie rebuketh the follies of Will, and sheweth him (as in a glasse) the fall of wilfull heads. This Dittie may be sung after the note of a courtlie Daunce called les quanto."—"In this dittie is expressed the sundry and daily mishaps that chaunce in Love, deciphered by him that felt them to his paine, to the tune of Johnson's Medley."—"A Dittie wherein is contained a very proper discourse of a certaine welthy Merchaunt who, forgetting his profite, gave his mind to pleasure. This dittie may be sung after a pleasant newe note called Prima visto."—"A pleasant Dittie, wherein is described what falsehood oftentimes is found in felowship, verified by a covetous-minded man, who laboured to deceive his deere freende, but yet deceived himselfe in the ende. This Dittie may be sung to the note of the Spanish Pavin."—"A Glasse for all men to behold themselves in, especially such proude and prodigall minded men and such delicate and daintie women, who, building on the pride of their beautie and amiable complexion, thinke scorne to become aged, and that their sweete faces should be wrinkled, or their youthfulness brought into subjection by age. This Ditty may be sung to the Earle of Oxenford's Galliard."—"A Dittie wherein the Author giveth his farewell to Fancie, having learned the auncient Proverbe that it is good to take warning by other men's misfortunes. This Ditty may be sung to A Munday his Galliard."

The above few notes give a very inadequate notion of the extreme curiosity of this volume, with its quaint language and woodcuts. The present and only known copy, which is as fresh as when it first issued from the press, was in the Bibliotheca Anglo-Poetica at £50, whence it was purchased by the Rev. J. M. Rice, at whose sale, in May, 1834, it passed into the present collection.

1177 OFFICIUM CHRISTIFERÆ VIRGINIS Mariæ SECUNDUM
USUM ECCLESIAE PARISIENSIS, CUM CALENDARIO

A MOST EXQUISITE MANUSCRIPT ON THE PUREST VELLUM, (measuring  $3\frac{1}{2}$  inches by  $2\frac{1}{4}$ ) admirably written by a first-rate Caligrapher, WITH MINIATURES AND BEAUTIFULLY ILLUMINATED BORDERS BY A FRENCH MINIATORE OF THE HIGHEST SKILL IN HIS ART, interleaved and bound in blue morocco with border of gold on sides, gilt edges, in a red morocco case 12mo. Sæc. xvi

THIS TRULY BEAUTIFUL VOLUME formerly belonged to Mr. Edwards, who considered it "by far the most elegant and delicate of the Italian illuminated Offices that he had been able to procure." Dr. Dibdin in his Decameron (vol. i., pp. clxxx-clxxxi) has given a description and five Engravings from Miniatures in this precious gem, which he pronounces "a jewel of caligraphy and illumination." At Edwards's sale it was purchased by Mr. North for £120, and was resold in 1845 for £135. This Bijou commences with a Calendar, in which are depicted, in 12 MINIATURES, the principal occupations of the Months executed in the highest style of Art, and as Dr. Dibdin justly observes, "Such a Series of apposite Illumination surely never was before beheld!" Each page of the Calendar, like the Offices themselves, is decorated with an admirable Border, invariably upon a lilac-tinted ground, composed of ropes and ribbons twisted into love-knots and fanciful shapes, playfully ornamented in the best taste with the Devices and Mottoes of the Family for whom it was executed. The Mottoes used the oftenest are "Firmitas Eternitatis spem duplicat" and "Non Mudera." The Device usually introduced is that of a Globe, but in several instances the Letter S, and in one a crowned C decorate the Borders. The volume contains also numerous CAPITALS, richly illuminated in gold and colours, and 15 MINIATURES, conceived and executed with surprising delicacy and precision. Several of the Intitulations are in letters of gold

AS A WHOLE IT IS UNDOUBTEDLY ONE OF THE FINEST SPECIMENS OF FRENCH ART EVER SUBMITTED FOR SALE BY AUCTION.

1178 OFFICIUM BEATE MARIE VIRGINIS SECUNDUM MOREM ROMANÆ
CURIE, CUM CALENDARIO.

MANUSCRIPT ON VELLUM, exquisitely written in a beautiful Italic, within borders of gold, by a first-rate Caligrapher. It is rendered gorgeous by the introduction of innumerable letters and ornaments, richly illuminated in gold and colours, and is adorned with 13 MINIATURE PAINTINGS, also executed in gold and colours by two different Artists, one evidently a Fleming and the other (who painted the Calendar and five of the Miniatures) an EXCELLENT FRENCH MINIATORE, imbued with a true Love of the Italian style. Each of these charming Specimens of high Art occupy the entire page and are of exquisite finish and delicacy. The Calendar fills fifteen pages, each of which is surrounded by a TASTEFUL BORDER, in which are painted with marvellous delicacy of touch the occupation of each month and the governing sign of the Zodiac. Towards the end are two small MINIATURES representing the Instruments of Torture and Jesus bound

Green morocco super extra, blind-tooled, lined with red leather, gorgeously covered with gold tooling, gilt edges, by Bauzonnet-Trautz, in a morocco case 8vo. Sæc. xvi

There was one sold at Mr. Fillingham's sale in 1805, purchased by Malone; and Mr. F. assured me that when Isaac Reed was told of it, he actually shed tears of vexation at having missed the prize; but I. Reed, I suspect, fancied it a very different book, and might have spared his tears. Malone's copy did not come with the rest of his books to the Bodleian."— M.S. note by Dr. Bliss. | Too  |

folio, printed by Isaac Iaggard and Ed. Blount, 1623

\* \* Mr. Daniel, whose bibliographical knowledge was most profound in all matters connected with the GREAT POET, and who was well acquainted with the condition, quality, and rank of all known copies of the first class, used to speak of the present as "THE FIRST FOLIO," placing especial emphasis on the definite article; an opinion concurred in by the late Mr. Rodd and other judges of known repute. It is perfect and pure from beginning to end, measures  $13\frac{1}{2}$  inches by  $8\frac{1}{4}$ , so that we feel justified in designating it a marvellous volume of unrivalled beauty, thus affording a most important guarantee that it is unquestionably the finest that can ever occur for public sale.

THIS COPY WILL TO ALL FUTURE TIME POSSESS A WORLD-WIDE REPUTATION.

It was bequeathed by Daniel Moore, F.R.S., to William Henry Booth, Esq. who left it by will to John Gage Rokewode, Esq., from whom it passed to Mr. Daniel, through the hands of the late Mr. Pickering. Its beauty was first remarked on by Dr. Dibdin in his Library Companion, 1824, when in Mr. Moore's possession.

Interesting letters attesting these facts are in the volume, and another from Mr. Joseph Lilly, offering the sum of £300 for it, written before the imperishable monument to the genius of the immortal Poet had reached its bibliographical zenith.

"This genuine and beautiful Copy of the second Folio Edition of Shakespeare's Plays was bought by Mr. Thorpe, Bookseller, at the sale of the Library at Nevill Holt, Leicestershire, and bought of him by me this the sixteenth day of September (my Birth-day!) 1848. I never saw it's equal for soundness and size." George Daniel. Canonbury.

OF THE PUREST QUALITY FROM BEGINNING TO END, AND THE LARGEST EXAMPLE KNOWN, measuring  $13\frac{1}{4}$  inches by  $9\frac{1}{4}$ , being  $\frac{1}{4}$  of an inch taller and  $\frac{1}{2}$  an inch wider than the copy recently sold by us, which brought £54. 12.

4to. London, printed by T. C. for Arthur Iohnson, and are to be sold at his shop in Powles Church-yard, at the signe of the Flower de Leuse and the Crowne, 1602

* * Only three perfect copies of this precious little volume, the play of the Merry Wives of Windsor, in its original state, as performed before Queen Elizabeth at Windsor Castle, are known to exist. The present, formerly Bindley's, is a most beautiful copy.

It would be an insult to the bibliographical knowledge of our readers were we to add long notes on the value of this and numerous articles in the Daniel Collection, no other copies of which are likely to occur for sale in the time of the present generation, if at all. The value of works of art rise and fall. That of early editions of Shakespeare, the nearest approach we can obtain to the autograph manuscripts of the great Bard, have maintained an increasing price from the earliest periods of collecting to the present day.

FIRST EDITION, OF EXCESSIVE RARITY
A FINE COPY, brown morocco extra, gilt edges, by Lewis
4to. London, printed by Richard Field for Iohn Harrison, and are to be sold at the signe of the White Greyhound in Paules Church-yard, 1594
- * * ONLY THREE OR FOUR PERFECT COPIES OF THIS MOST INTERESTING VOLUME ARE KNOWN TO EXIST. The dedication is a "precious relic, One of the only two Letters of Shakespeare that have been preserved to our time."—J. O. HALLIWELL.
- 40 19 . 1452 SHAKESPEARE (W.). THE RAPE OF LUCRECE, committed by Tarquin the Sixt; and the remarkable judgments that befel him for it. Whereunto is annexed The Banishment of Tarquin, or, The Reward of Lust, by T. Quarles
VERY RARE, with the scarce frontispiece containing a Head of Shakespeare, VERY BRILLIANT IMPRESSION, russia extra, gilt edges
12mo., J. G., for John Stafford, 1655
- 240 . . 1453 SHAKESPEARE (W.). VENUS AND ADONIS
SECOND EDITION, red morocco extra, with exquisite gold borders of the richest tooling
4to. London, Imprinted by Richard Field, and are to be sold at the signe of the white Greyhound in Paules Church-yard, 1594
- * * This is a taller copy than Jolley's, a poor one, bought by Mr. Grenville for £106 at these rooms in 1844. The Bodleian copy is a wretched one, perfect as to leaves, but with several slight defects. The present cannot be called a fine copy, yet still it may be considered THE FINEST KNOWN. We are not aware that more than three copies exist.
- 2 1 . 1454 Shakespeare (W.). Venus and Adonis of 1594, a single leaf from that rare edition. sm. 4to. R. Field, 1594
- 315 . . 1455 SHAKESPEARE (W.) VENUS AND ADONIS, in half morocco, preserved in russia case
sm. 8vo. Imprinted at London by R. F. for Iohn Harison, 1596
- * * "This most precious volume is from the libraries of the late Sir W. Bolland, and B. H. Bright, Esqr. At Sir W. Bolland's sale it was bought by Mr. Bright for £91. At Mr. Bright's sale, on 7th April, 1845, I became the purchaser for the sum of £91 10."—MS. note by Mr. Daniel.
A beautiful copy. The only other copy known, that in the Bodleian, is on the whole a fine one, but some of the head-lines are cut into. This one, therefore, is by far the more desirable of the two.

1456 SHAKESPEARE (W.) SONNETS, NEUER BEFORE IM-
PRINTED, olive morocco extra, gilt edges

4to. At London by G. Eld for T. T. and are to be solde
by Iohn Wright dwelling at Christ Church-gate, 1609

* * A LARGE, SOUND, BEAUTIFUL, AND PERFECT COPY of this most rare volume, AND ONE OF ONLY TWO PERFECT COPIES KNOWN WITH THE ABOVE IMPRINT. This precious little tome formerly belonged to Narcissus Luttrell, and cost him the sum of one shilling!!! an amount which will very probably be exceeded on the present occasion. It was afterwards in the possession of George Steevens.

1460 S. (W.) LAMENTABLE TRAGEDIE OF LOCRINE, THE ELDEST SONNE OF KING BRUTUS, discoursing the warres of the Britaines, and Hunnes, with their discomfiture; the Britaines victorie with their Accidents, and the death of Albanact. No lesse pleasant then profitable. Newly set foorth, ouerseene and corrected, by W. S.
a very fine copy in light green morocco, with gilt edges, by Lewis
4to. London, printed by Thomas Creede, 1595

* * OF EXCESSIVE RARITY, BUT INCORRECTLY ATTRIBUTED TO SHAKE-SPEARE. We have often heard the late Mr. Daniel speak of this little volume as one of the gems of his collection. On the title-page is a note by Sir George Buck, the Master of the Revels, assigning the authorship of the play to C. Tilney.

1648 TAYLOR (JOHN, THE WATER-POET), a curious collection of his Fugitive pieces, comprising—

(1) Arrant Thiefe,

Whom everie Man may trust;
In word and deed, exceeding true and just.

With a comparison betweene a Thiefe and a Booke, curious woodcut of a pickpocket in the act of thieving, on the title fine copy in green morocco, richly tooled, with borders inside

18mo. Printed at London for Henry Gosson, 1635

(2) A Bawd, a vertuous Bawd, a modest Bawd, as Shee Deserves, reprove, or else applaud. Written by John Taylor. Singular woodcut on title, fine copy, but a few words at the corner of sig. B 2 supplied in MS.

Printed at London for Henry Gosson, 1635

(3) An Armado; or, a Navy of a Hundred and Three Ships, and other Vessels, who have the Art to Sayle by Land as well as by Sea, Morally Rig'd, Man'd, Munition'd, Appointed, Set forth, and Victualled, with two and thirty sorts of Ling, with other Provisions of Fish and Flesh, by John Taylor

fine copy London, printed for Henry Gosson, 1635

(4) TAYLORS TRAVELS AND CIRCULAR PERAMBULATION, through and by more then thirty times twelve Signes of the Zodiack, of the Famous Cities of London and Westminster. With the Honour and Worthinesse of the Vine, the Vintage, the Wine and the Vintoner; with an Alphabetically Description of all the Taverne Signes in the Cities, Suburbs, and Liberties aforesaid, and significant Epigrams upon the said severall

fine copy, with the spare leaf at the end

London, printed by A. M., 1636

* * This most rare and curious piece, which is partly in verse, gives a singularly interesting account of the taverns in London then existing. It is not included in his Works, AND NO OTHER COPY IS KNOWN. The names of the taverns are arranged alphabetically, verses following the name of each sign. It is, without exception, the most curious of all the tracts on the London taverns which appeared in the seventeenth century.

(5) Bull, Beare, and Horse, Cut, Curtaile and Longtaile. With Tales, and Tales of Buls. Clenches and Flashes. As also here and there a touch of our Beare-Garden sport; with the second part of the Merry conceits of Wit and Mirth. Together with the Names of all the Bulls and Beares. Of extreme rarity, but imperfect at the end (a MS. note says one leaf only wanting; but the work is so rare as to be probably UNIQUE, and we have no means of ascertaining the correctness of this statement).

London, printed by M. Parsons for Henry Gosson, and are to be sold at his shop on London Bridge, 1638

* * * At the end of this remarkable little volume are some curious fragments of works by the same author.

| Lewis    | 1672 | THOMSON (JAMES). SEASONS, with Life of the Author, portrait added green morocco, gilt edges 1818A Wonderful Specimen of Calligraphy, copied by the Pen in EXACT IMITATION OF A PRINTED EDITION, A MARVELLOUS INSTANCE OF PERSEVERING INDUSTRY, penned by Andrew Affleck, a native of Glasgow, an officer in the Marines captured during the French Revolutionary Wars, and carried prisoner to Verdun. The task was undertaken to wile away the miserable hours of a long procrastinated captivity, and was accomplished under numerous privations. At the release of the writer this singular proof of perseverance was presented to Captain Smith, a fellow-prisoner, from whom Andrew Affleck had received many marks of particular kindness.—MS. note | 2  | 15  |

|    |     |  UNIQUE. This is a most curious little volume, the first known edition of the history of Tom Thumb, so often alluded to by our early writers. The compiler, from the initials at the end, appears to have been Richard Johnson. In the new edition of Lowndes, two copies of this book are said to be extant. We believe, however, that this is an error, and that the present copy is the only one known. |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |        |

|  Of great rarity, ONLY ONE OTHER PERFECT COPY BEING KNOWN. Independently of its great rarity, it is a volume of very considerable literary interest. Steevens, in one of his mad fits, pronounced Watson not only an older, but "much more elegant sonneteer than Shakespeare;" and Meres, in 1598, compared him with Petrarch. A still higher interest will be attached to these Sonnets from the following observations of Steevens,—"Shakespeare appears to have been among the number of his readers, having in the following passage of Venus and Adonis— 'Leading him prisoner in a red-rose chain—' borrowed an idea from his 83rd Sonnet— 'The Muses, not long since, intrapping LoveIn chaines of roases linked all araye,Gave Beawtie charge to watch in theire behoveWith Graces three, lest he should wend awaye.' |    |      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |         |

|  This is one of the rarest and most curious early story-books in the English language. ONLY TWO COPIES ARE KNOWN TO EXIST. The present one came from the Roxburghe Collection. Its curiosity is highly increased by its including a version of the tale upon which Shakespeare founded his Cymbeline. |      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |    |    |

| 2 |   | 1817 | Autograph Letter of EDMUND KEAN, eminent Tragedian, to W. Dodsworth, of Salisbury, acknowledging the receipt of Edward III. "I lament very much that I had not been fortunate enough to meet with so fine a play, in those times when my humble talents held an influence in the dramatic hemisphere. There can be but little doubt that a great portion, if not the whole of the play, is from the pen of Shakespeare; but as, in the days of Elizabeth, it was the custom to write conjointly, some minor poet might have been connected with him. The scene between the King and the Countess of Salisbury is decidedly Shakespeare's."A highly interesting letter | Aug. 16th (1825)              | Nelson |

|  The following interesting note is in the handwriting of the late Mr. Daniel: "This fine Malacca Cane, gold mounted, was presented by David Garrick to King the Actor, and he used it as a stage dress cane, in Lord Ogleby, Sir Peter Teazle, &amp;c. &amp;c. King gave it to John Bannister, who adopted it for Doctor Pangloss, Caleb Quotem, &amp;c. &amp;c. Bannister gave it to his friend and protégé John Pritt Harley (MY dear friend), who put it to the same use, and also in a variety of other characters; for he was very proud of it, and prized it highly. It was purchased at his sale ('Lot 535, A fine Malacca Dr. Pangloss Cane, gold mounted,') on Thursday, 25th Nov. 1858, for £2. 2s. Harley was very fond of telling its pedigree, and boasted that (inspired by its traditional associations) he always played with more spirit when he had it in his hand." |    |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |   |                  |
